Part Two (3/3)

You could also customize and add more columns to the result, if the default columns do not meet your needs.

The screenshot shows a search filter interface with several input fields and buttons. At the top, there is a blacked-out header. Below it, there are three input fields, each with a 'starts with' dropdown menu to its left and a 'Clear' button with a minus sign to its right. Below these are two more input fields, one labeled 'Origin:' and one labeled 'Dest.', each with a three-dot menu to its right and a 'Clear' button with a minus sign to its right. Below these are two more input fields, one with a dropdown arrow to its right and a 'Clear' button with a minus sign to its right. Below these is an 'Event Reference:' label followed by a 'starts with' dropdown menu and an input field. At the bottom, there is a 'System Default Layout' dropdown menu and a 'Clear' button with a plus sign, which is circled in red. An orange arrow points from this plus sign to the 'Filter by Numbers and References' dialog box on the right.
